

Paper Development Workshop -
Business & Society Special Issue “Health is Everyone’s Business: Embodying Business-Health Research”

Submission Deadline: Friday, September 30, 2022

The guest editors of Business & Society (IF 7.389, 5-year IF 7.792) Special Issue titled “Health is Everyone’s Business: Embodying Business-Health Research” will organize a virtual, synchronous workshop where potential authors present their ideas and receive constructive feedback sometime in October.

This Special Issue intends to open a place for advancing the discussion of the role of business in tackling health challenges and the impact of business on the health of all relevant stakeholders, including employees, consumers, and communities.

We welcome interdisciplinary studies not only from all business areas, including management, marketing, entrepreneurship, business and society, and sustainability but also from neighboring disciplines such as public health, environmental health, and international development.

Submission Requirements: To be considered for the workshop, interested scholars are required to send a proposal of up to 5 pages to junghoon.park@baruch.cuny.edu.

Download the Special Issue Call for Papers here: bit.ly/3QeNs6q

Please feel free to contact the guest editors if you have any questions.

Best wishes,

Bryan W. Husted, Tecnológico de Monterrey
Fred D. Ledley, Bentley University
Ivan Montiel, City University of New York
Jill A. Brown, Bentley University
Junghoon Park, City University of New York